Communities Collaborative Conference
Brain Development:

A national conference designed to give parents and service providers a forum to share new information, state-of-the-art techniques and strategies that have proven successful when working with children and their families. This is an excellent opportunity for participants to present research findings along with hands on and “how to” information to all individuals working with children and families. This years conference goals are to bring together all individuals, programs and schools that work with children ages birth through school-age. We want to share information and provide useful strategies to better serve children and families: For Parents, Foster-parents, ECFE, Head Start, Child Care, School Age, School Administrators and Teachers, Health, Early Intervention, Social Services, Child Advocates, Legislators and School Board Members.

Call for Presentations

The review of proposals will assess presentations for:

- 1). Presenter’s experience and previous presentation credentials
- 2). Potential interest to audience;
- 3). Respecting families
- 4). Reflecting cultural competence
- 5). Take home strategies for participants

We encourage advanced Presentations!
